About this document

When to use this target market determination

This target market determination (TMD) seeks to provide existing and potential members, existing and potential employers, distributors, and staff with an understanding of the class of members for which this product is likely to be appropriate, having regard to the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the target market.

This document is not to be treated as a full summary of the product's features and risks and is not intended to provide financial advice. Individuals must refer to the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) and the additional guides when making a decision about this product.

Product disclosure statement to which this target market determination applies

This TMD applies to employees and former employees of Rio Tinto, QAL, Yancoal, Glencore and Kestrel, referred to in the following disclosure documents:

- Equip Super Corporate 1 PDS and additional guides

The target market for this product

Equip Super Corporate is an accumulation product designed to manage and invest individuals' superannuation contributions and earnings for their retirement within the concessional taxed superannuation environment.

Superannuation is largely compulsory and designed to cater for all Australians. The target market for this product comprises of the following class of consumers:

- full-time, part-time and casual employees working in Australia for a participating employer of this product; and
- individuals who have formerly worked for a participating employer of this product, wanting to save for retirement, whether they are working or not.

This product is not designed for individuals who are not saving for their retirement, or individuals who have commenced retirement and need to draw a retirement income.

The product has key attributes that make it likely to meet the objectives, financial situation and needs of the target market as it provides a default investment and insurance offering for the target market, and enables personalisation through a variety of options and features:

- a choice of investment options, to enable individuals to select an investment option according to their investment objectives and risk appetite; and
- subject to eligibility criteria and conditions, individuals may be offered automatic access to insurance cover, and are provided the ability to tailor the insurance cover to suit their needs.

Typical characteristics of individuals in this product include:

Individuals joining through participating employers*
Who	Individuals wanting to save for retirement who receive employer contributions from a participating employer. This may also include individuals who want to continue to grow their savings for retirement after ceasing employment with a participating employer.
Typical age	Individuals can be of any age to invest their super savings. Individuals wanting insurance cover who are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ at least 15 years of age for all cover types ■ under 65 (permanent employees) and 70 (non-permanent employees) for death cover, and ■ under 65 for income protection (IP) and total and permanent disablement (TPD) cover.
Industry, occupation, employment status	When first joining, individuals must be employed by an Equip Super participating employer. They can be in any occupation. Once an individual ceases employment with the participating employer or directs employer contributions to another fund, they can maintain their account, whether they are employed or not. Their insurance cover may change once they have ceased employment.
Likely objectives	Individuals seeking a tax-effective investment vehicle to save for retirement during the accumulation phase through a combination of contributions and earnings from investments, with access to a range of investment options and insurance cover.

* Participating employers in this product are Rio Tinto, QAL, Yancoal, Glencore, Kestrel, and associated employers of these entities. They have nominated Equip Super as their default superannuation fund.

Product description and key attributes

Equip Super Corporate is a tax-advantaged savings vehicle that allows members to grow retirement savings over time through a combination of contributions and earnings from investments in the superannuation system.

The key attributes of the product are:

- Investments: A choice of investment options, including eight (8) diversified and four (4) single sector investment options, so members can tailor their investments according to their financial goals and risk tolerance. The default MySuper investment option is for members who do not wish to select an investment option.
- Insurance: Access to insurance options, subject to eligibility criteria and conditions. Some members may receive a level of cover automatically (rules apply).

Investments

Individuals who fall within the target market for the investment options offered in Equip Super Corporate:

Investment options available	Individuals joining through a participating employer
Diversified options	In target market
Sector specific options	In target market

Product description and key attributes – investments

Equip Super Corporate's investment menu allows members to choose and combine investment options suited to their financial goals and tolerance to risk.

Members can choose from eight diversified and four single sector investment options. The default MySuper investment option is for members who do not wish to select an investment option.

While all options are designed to be appropriate for members who want to invest for their retirement, they do not take individual members' particular circumstances or needs into account. Members will need to consider their age, their time horizon, the likely risk and return profile of each option, and their own circumstances and needs, before investing. Options vary as to whether they target capital growth or income in the short, medium or long term.

As summarised below, each investment option has a specific investment objective, risk characteristics and time horizon. This information allows members to compare options offered by Equip Super Corporate with those of other superannuation funds. Members can invest in one or more investment options.

The PDS and How we invest your money guide provide more details on each option offered.

Insurance

Individuals who fall into the target market for the insurance cover offered in Equip Super Corporate:

Insurance cover available	Target market	Members joining through a participating employer
Death cover	Designed for members seeking to make provision for dependants in the event of their death. Death cover may also provide cover if a member is diagnosed with a terminal illness.	In target market. Cover available automatically (default level) and on application.
Total and permanent disablement (TPD) cover	Designed for members seeking to make provision against financial hardship and loss due to total and permanent disablement.	In target market. Cover available automatically (default level) and on application.
Income protection (IP) cover	Designed for members in employment seeking to make provision against a loss of income from illness or injury.	In target market. Cover available on application.

Eligibility conditions

To be eligible for insurance cover a member must be:

- older than 15; and
- for death cover, younger than 65 (permanent employees) and 70 (non-permanent employees); and
- for TPD or IP cover, younger than 65; and
- for IP cover, an Australian resident, i.e. an Australian citizen, a person holding a valid Australian visa with permission to work in Australia, or a New Zealand citizen who is residing and working in Australia.

Product description and key attributes – insurance

Key attributes of the insurance offering to the target market are summarised below. However, the PDS and Insurance in your super guide should be referred to for further details.

Cover type	Permanent employees	Non-permanent employees
Death and TPD	Members who join Equip Super Corporate as permanent employees of a participating employer are eligible to receive default cover automatically. While default cover is provided at set levels, actual cover needs will depend on each member's individual situation. Members have the flexibility to apply for or change cover to suit their specific needs. Insurance costs are paid from a member's superannuation account. Members should consider both, their cover needs and their need to save for retirement, when reviewing their cover or applying for cover. Default cover <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Cover is a percentage of a member's salary to age 65. ■ A member is eligible for cover to switch on automatically if an employer contribution was received in the first 120 days of joining the employer, the member is at least 25 years old, has reached a balance of $6,000 in the Fund, and has received another contribution from the participating employer upon meeting those thresholds. Members can also opt into default cover when they first join. ■ Members may be eligible to increase or decrease the default percentage of salary to age 65 to a higher or lower percentage, without having to go through full underwriting when they first join. ■ Cover is limited cover, meaning it doesn't apply to pre-existing conditions, until a member has been at work for 30 consecutive days after cover starts. ■ Default cover is provided with an occupational rating. The occupational rating is one of the factors that determine how much the cover costs, and is associated with the member's employer and the industry they are in. New members receive a Standard rating. Members can apply to change their rating to White collar or professional. ■ Members can hold death cover only, or death and TPD cover. ■ Members can decrease or cancel their default cover. Any request for an increase in default cover will need to be underwritten. ■ When members cease employment or direct their employer contributions to another fund, their cover remains unchanged. For members who ceased employment prior to 1 July 2024, their salary-based cover will change to unit-based cover. Cover via underwriting Optional death and TPD cover can be obtained depending on individual needs, objectives and financial situation.	Members who join Equip Super Corporate as non-permanent employees of a participating employer are eligible to receive default cover automatically. While default cover is provided at set levels, actual cover needs will depend on each member's individual situation. Members have the flexibility to apply for or change cover to suit their specific needs. Insurance costs are paid from a member's superannuation account. Members should consider both, their cover needs and their need to save for retirement, when reviewing their cover or applying for cover. Default cover <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Cover is one unit of death and TPD cover to age 65, and one unit of death only cover from age 65 to age 70. ■ A member is eligible for cover to switch on automatically if an employer contribution was received in the first 120 days of joining the employer, the member is at least 25 years old, has reached a balance of $6,000 in the Fund, and has received another contribution from the participating employer upon meeting those thresholds. Members can also opt into default cover when they first join. ■ Cover is limited cover, meaning it doesn't apply to pre-existing conditions, until a member has been at work for 30 consecutive days after cover starts. ■ Default cover is provided with an occupational rating. The occupational rating is one of the factors that determine how much the cover costs, and is associated with the member's employer and the industry they are in. New members receive a Standard rating. Members can apply to change their rating to White collar or professional. ■ Members can hold death cover only, or death and TPD cover. ■ Members can decrease or cancel their default cover. Any request for an increase in default cover will need to be underwritten. Cover via underwriting Optional death and TPD cover can be obtained depending on individual needs, objectives and financial situation.
IP	Cover via underwriting only Members who join Equip Super Corporate do not receive default IP cover and have to apply for it. Equip Super Corporate offers insurance options for members should they no longer be able to work. Before applying for cover, members should consider the level of cover they need for their individual circumstances. Because insurance costs are paid from a member's superannuation account, members should consider both, their cover needs and their need to save for retirement when applying for cover. Cover on application includes fixed IP cover, with a benefit period of 2 or 5 years, and waiting periods of 30, 60 or 90 days.

Employment status and claims

- TPD claims: Anyone with TPD cover can lodge a claim; however, the definition of TPD applied to a member's claim depends on the employment status at the date of disablement (see the Insurance in your super guide for more information).
- IP claims: If a claim is accepted, payment amounts are determined by the member's employment circumstances and income at the date of temporary disablement. Further, they may be reduced by any other disability income, including government benefits, a member receives.

Who the insurance is unlikely to be appropriate for and to whom the insurance is not, or is unlikely to be, available

- Members who don't meet the eligibility conditions above.
- Members who otherwise do not satisfy the general terms and conditions of the insurer.
- Members for whom the product (including its policy terms and conditions) does not meet their individual needs.
- Members who do not meet the automatic acceptance conditions, including:
 - members who already have an account in the Fund,
 - members who have applied for or are intending to apply for a TPD or terminal illness benefit from another fund or an Australian life insurer,
 - members who have advised they do not want automatic cover, and
 - members who do not receive an employer contribution within 120 days of joining the participating employer.

Consistency between target market and the product

Analysis has determined that the needs and objectives of the identified class of members align with the key terms, attributes and features of the product as listed above. The product provides a default offering suitable for the broadness of the target market yet enables personalisation through a variety of options and features.

How this product is to be distributed

Distribution channels

This product has been designed to be distributed through the following means:

- Participating employers of Equip Super, including Rio Tinto, QAL, Yancoal, Glencore, Kestrel, and associated employers of these entities, with members being joined directly through the employer or a paper application form.
- Through a financial planner, working for Togethr Financial Planning Pty Ltd. (This product is not distributed through planners from third party dealer groups.)

Distribution conditions

The following distribution conditions apply:

- where the product is distributed by a participating employer, the employer has nominated Equip Super as their default fund and has agreed to participate in it;
- where the product is distributed by a planner from Togethr Financial Planning, the planner needs to take reasonable steps to ensure the product is appropriate for their client;
- the product is only for distribution in Australia.

Adequacy of distribution conditions and restrictions

The distribution conditions have been assessed and are limited to the two distribution channels above. These channels are appropriate to ensure the product is directed toward the target market for whom the product has been designed.
